

Seed Growing 101 Workshop & Field Tour

August 17th, 2010 10am – 2pm

“The Community Model of seed saving and varietal improvement is the only model that has ever truly worked.”
Joshua Cravens,
Arid Crop Seed Cache

ARID CROP SEED
CACHE

Phone: 505-620-5692
E-mail: info@c4puertas.org

Location: San Ignacio Church, Monticello Plaza, Monticello, NM.

A free lunch made from local ingredients will be shared in the Plaza at noon.

Learn all that you need to know to confidently grow seed on a commercial level or as a backyard gardener. This in-depth workshop will provide details far beyond just planting and harvest, while showing an example of a working local farm, Jardin del Alma. This workshop will include topics such as: isolation distances, population minimums, importance of variety maintenance, seed cleaning techniques and crop specific tips.

Space limited to 50 participants. Preregistration can be obtained by visiting www.c4puertas.org or by calling 505-620-5692.

You must preregister for this free workshop by July 17th, 2010.

This workshop is being presented in collaboration with: Cuatro Puertas, Organic Seed Alliance, and Family Farmers Seed Coop. Funded by a USDA Rural Development Grant.

